A BIT ABOUT BARNLSLEY

Barnsley is a welcoming, thriving, and vibrant location and is fast becoming one of Yorkshire's most exciting places to live, work visit and explore.

Living in Barnsley gives you the best of what South Yorkshire has to offer - bustling towns surrounded by incredible outdoor space, it's minutes from the M1 and has superb transport links (train/ bus/ road).

Sitting on the northeast edge of the Peak District National Park, Barnsley is perfect if you enjoy getting out and about.

With picturesque countryside, beautiful parks and gardens (Yorkshire Sculpture Park), stately homes, industrial heritage, nature reserves, the Trans Pennine Trail, galleries, a wealth of public art, and bustling historic markets, right on the doorstep, it has plenty to offer.

There are some fantastic places to set up a home. Like most of South Yorkshire, Barnsley is best known for its rugged stone-built terraced homes but the most popular properties in the area are three-bedroom semi-detached homes - outlining Barnsley's appeal to families.

And with new developments springing up, the town also offers its fair share of newer houses, as well as town centre apartments close to the station for commuters.

Barnsley town centre recently underwent a £220M transformation, bringing a brand-new retail and leisure complex, The Glass Works and a great day, evening and night-time offer. This is driving footfall and business and attracting visitors from across the region.

The town centre is also home to The Seam development, Barnsley's Digital Campus. An urban village will transform the two Digital Media Centres and the Barnsley College Sci-Tech Digital Hub and will be a testbed for innovative ideas, supporting the Barnsley economy to grow, with digital and smart tech at the heart of it.

Across the borough, investment continues, with several major schemes underway and more in the pipeline.

OUR VISION

Our vision for the organisation is 'We are the heart of Barnsley – a place for all to enjoy amazing cultural and creative experiences'.

Barnsley Civic is an ambitious, creative and passionate organisation. We aim to reach as many people in our town, our borough and our region as possible through incredible performances, contemporary visual art exhibitions and through our engagement work. And we are setting out on an exciting new journey to inspire more people where they live, raise aspiration levels and transform the experience of culture and creativity across the borough.

Barnsley Civic is entering its twelfth year of operations since it reopened in 2010. The future is looking optimistic, with a capital redevelopment plan underway which will help reshape and refocus the organisation. A new CEO started in September 2021, bringing a fresh, new vision and impetus to the organisation, and in the last six months he has developed new artistic and commercial partnerships, secured new additional funding and steered the capital development programme through its development.

2021-2022 has been a year of progress for Barnsley Civic, which included a review of the artistic programme, creating synergies across the artistic output of the organisation from the theatre to the gallery and the education and outreach work; which will be fully realised in the years ahead. Our new five year strategy will enable more people across our borough, who currently have little opportunity to engage with cultural work, to access, experience and enjoy creative activity.

We are exploring opportunities to increase our earned income, become more relevant and visible in Barnsley and the borough, and encourage more people to use Barnsley Civic as artists, as community groups and audiences in our theatre, gallery and other spaces. The capital work at the Eldon Street end of the building will accelerate throughout 2022-2023 and will be reaching completion by the end of September 2023. This will open the original front door of Barnsley Civic, providing easy access to and visibility for people living and working in Barnsley, and open up opportunities for both commercial and creative organisations to fully utilise the building.

Barnsley Civic Enterprise Ltd is a registered charity, and receives generous financial support from Barnsley Metropolitan Borough Council and Arts Council England.
